

BARGAINING BULLETIN # 48 4/6/2010

The Company has refused to meet with Your Union Bargaining Committee! The Company has apparently taken the Union's rejection of their proposal for settlement as an opportunity to redefine "Bargaining in Good Faith" to mean, "we are taking our ball and going home unless we get our way". While this posture seems childish, your Union Bargaining Committee remains ready to bargain anywhere, anytime, until we get a fair contract! You elected us to negotiate a fair and equitable contract on your behalf and we will settle for nothing less. We have been working for months to that end and remain ready to continue that process; hopefully you, the membership, along with community and friends can help get the company back to the table. As a result of the company's refusal to bargain in good faith, the Union Bargaining Committee will be vacating the hotel until the Company is again ready to come to the table.
